National Hospital Day

National Hospital Day
Thursday, May 12
Today is Hospital Day all over the Nation. Let's make it hospital day in Graylling also.
Just what does hospital day mean? It is a day set aside to observe your hospital. If you are a large enough town or city to have a hospital and you dont have one, then get together on that day and see what's to be done about it. If you have one, observe it.
See if it is large enough and statisfactory. Is it fireproof? Is it safe?

The writer can remember the day our hospital was dedicated.

The writer can remember the day our hospital was dedicated. It was in 1910. That means the building is about forty years old. That is pretty old for a frame building.

Thursday, May 12 is the day to call on your own hospital. See what your doctors and Sisters and nurses are doing and accomplishing every day. Observe the conditions under which they are yorking. See for yourself what your hospital tooks like how it is operated. Are the facilities adequate to take care of the needs? Are there rooms enough? Is it fireproof.

Are there rooms enough? Is it fireproof.
See and observe it on hospital day. If you do not see it, you do not know, you are in no position to talk or comment or judge. How can you say, "our hospital is perfectly adequate, we do not need a new one," if you do not know of what you speak?

Let's make it our business to know. Let's take an interest in vital needs of the community.

Other neighboring towns are building new hospitals. If we continue to sit back and say, the town is too small, we are too poor town is too small, we are too poor, it can't be done, then I am afraid it won't be done. But if we all get together, and put our shoulders to the wheel and work and fight for it, perhaps it can be done.

Second Oil Well

Watter McClanahan, who spends a great deal of his time at his lodge down river, hit a fine producing well for the second time within a month, near the approximate center of a 5,000 acre drilling block that he has under lease in Gladwin County.

The new well is located in Bearwerton Downship and was finished in at 3,948 feet. The top soil of the producing Dundee formation was found at 3,880 feet and the first show of oil was at between 3,930 and 3,935 feet. The hole filled with 200 feet of oil in 2 hours and increased to 350 feet within 10 hours. The well was then deepened to 3,944 feet and the oil show increased to 600 feet. Plans are now being made to acidize the well which should increase the production.

Short Ribs and Excess Chine Bone Are Removed Before Weighing

Short ribs of beef are delicious braised, but they're not stender as the rest of the ribs and should not be roasted along with them. Furthershould obviously cost less per pound than rib roast. That's why A&P removes the short ribs (along with the 2 heavy blade ribs and the the 2 heavy blade ribs and the tip of the chine bone) before weighing your spast, and sells them separately. The only part of a rib of beat you pay rib roast prices for is the tender, julcy heart of the roast.

A Real Problem

The signing of the 12-power mutual defense treaty marked an unprecedented new step in foreign policy for the United States. Practically every columnist and editorial writer promptly pointed this out. But considerably less attention has been given to the intense practical problems which must be solved if the document is to be an effective instrument for stopping aggression and maintaining the peace of the world.

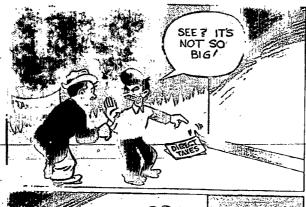

The European nations which have signed the pact and which in many cases have shown great courage in doing so-want arms of all kinds. Only the U.S is able to provide the desired amounts, though England will be of some help. And arms are expensive.

General Bradley has said, in effect, that promises to liberate small countries on some unknown future date after a devasting war are not enough. A strong defense line, he went on, must be built and maintained in constant readiness in Europe. This was interpreted to mean that the Chief of Staff of the Army believes American troops, no less than American weapons, must help to hold that line. Here again we run into serious problems of high policy—and grave problems of cost.

There are those who believe the pact should be implemented regardless of how expensive it may be. But some of the pact's best friends aren't so sure. Dr. Edwin Nourse, top economic advisor to the President, exploded something of a bombshell when he said that, in his opinion, the cost of supplying arms to Europe should be taken out of our domestic military budget. Dr. Nourse's reasoning is simple—he feels that the country is spending about all it can stand now for military purposes, and that heavy additional spending would endanger the soundness of the economy. However, the military lead ers want more money, not less, for the domes-

The situation is further complicated by the current budget outlook. The recent drop in prices and business volume has cut into governmental income.

And How He Bites!

In the course of construction during the past years, involving residential, commercial and industrial building, the Young Construction Company purposely tried and tested many different brands and types of paint. Each job was studied and is constantly studied to determine how the paint holds up.

Finally a paint line was found which embodies all that we feel to be the very best in permanency, color and economy of price range and coverage.

This paint now bears the Youngstown label. We feel that our tests have been made under virtually all kinds of conditions and that we can guarantee our paint without qualification. Measles should not be regarded lightly as the complications can cause serolus results, and while there is no special treatment for measles there are extremely satisfactory medications for the complications. Children suffering from measles should be kept in bed to avoid exposure to cold, as the most frequent complication of measles is pneumonia. Other dangerous complications such as middle car infections should not be treated these complications and may avoid serious trouble.

There is no lasting immunizing agent for measles, but the use of immune globulin, given-soon after exposure is of remarkable value intemporarily preventing the attack, or better still, in producing a mild attack, usually devoid of complications and by so doing producing permanent immunity. The ideal time for the use of immune globulin is 5 or 6 days after exposure to measules. This medication is particularly valuable in extremely young children who may be exposed by older children in the family who are of school age.

Curley Lawson's cousin from back East and a few of us got talking when he was here visiting, and I couldn't help noticing how different he said things.

For instance, he said, "Lifting that 200-pound bag of cement almost killed me." "You mean sack of cement?" asks Curley. (That's the way we'd say it.) "No," interrupts young Elliott who'd spent a lot of time down South, "He means a 'poke of see-ment.'

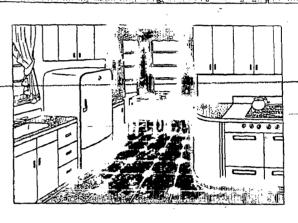

It was good for a chuckle, anyway. Bag, sack or poke-we knew what he was trying to say. It just depends on where you are in the U.S., which way sounds right.

From where I sit, whonever wo criticize someone for sounding funny to us, we ought to think how we sound to them. It's the same as choosing your liquid refreshment. I'm accustomed to a moderate glass of beer-you may like ginger alebut who's to say the other's wrong? I'd say we're both right!

IF ONE TELEPHONE LINE CAN SERVE ONE FAMILY OR TWO FAMILIES OR FOUR FAMILIES AND THERE ARE MANY. MANY MORE FAMILIES WHO WANT TELEPHONES THAN THERE ARE LINES TO ACCOMMODATE THEM, WHAT IS THE FAIREST WAY YOU CAN THINK OF TO PROVIDE SERVICE?

Obviously, the fairest way is to make telephone facilities just as far as they will by providing party-line service.

Ever since the war, we have been trying to catch up with the demand for telephones. While many families would prefer individual-line service, their willingness to share a party line has made it possible for them to have a telephone sooner.

We're working to speed the day when everyone can have the kind of service he wants. Meanwhile, party-line service can be good-and is good-when everybody is considerate of his partyline neighbors
